Introduction:

As Cornelius girls academy girls proposed this project after investigating some things about girls schools. We know and see what most girl's pertinence it. Most girls in the society think a lot of things in their heads about future life and forget what has brought us or them to school.

We proposed this project as to why most girls drop education at higher level because we think it will help the country and the society in all. With the help of our teachers and people that surround us we have been able to release some of the secrets hidden behind us or hidden behind other people's heads and minds we were also able to complete this project with many various seasons and ideas to be developed in tomorrow's Tanzania.

We need this country to be one in a million.

Not by getting help from other countries but also from us giving help to other countries by building up new best scientists from Tanzania as a nation.

WHY MOST GIRLS DROP EDUCATION AT HIGH LEVEL

Most girls drop education at higher level this is what the protect is referring to as the problem identified, this is something that most people have been asking questions about, question that can't be asked of answered. Many government leader have been seeing this problem as a normal things saying that many girls want it for themselves But that not the reason behind lets no why Tanzania girls most of them drop education at higher level without thinking about higher level ever low level sometimes.

Why do they do that why many girls instead of boy's why should it be girls all day long and not boy's what is the reason behind to this question asked above we want to open the eyes of people who says that a we man is with to get inheritance why is that we have to find identification to this problem and do the high to research needed so as to solve the problem above which can later build own Tanzanian nation

As the problem identified the following questions should be an answered dewing our project research so as to create a better conclusion to the project.

- People say that most girls' drop education level because they make it happen for themselves is it true?
- Another question is that the world philosophy states that when girls are sent to school they get pregnant so it is money wasting sending a girl to school is it also true?
- Another thing is that people say that because of school fees that has been a debate because some its a yes and to some its a no?
- Some people say that its life standard of somebody, that the friends we responsible so is it the parents responsible or the student them selves?
- Some people say that girls are stupid and country boys should be sent to school because they are wise? In mixed schools is it because girls are scared of boys or they become she can that cause a girl to drop education at higher level? We want to answer all the questions that will be asked by people in experimentation and research process so that we can know the truth about this question.

To what most girls suggest is about co-operation and unity among them government and parents. A girl getting pregnant at school some any mistakes but some are mistakes but most parents and teachers discourage many girls at school telling them that they are stupid that's why they got pregnant by doing this do people think that a girl can be encouraged in continuing studying while she is already discouraged when studies.

•Some parents are also involved in discouraging their children they don't care about them what they want and what their children need for their studies example? Can take it from a school we visited a girl who performs better in her studies she struggles hard to make her parents proud but when she gets home and say mum or Dad an the first in class I've lead when the boy's she just get an "Okay" from them, they don't care about their children's feelings then what do u think a girl or a boy would do. These are the questions they will ask them selves. Then if my mum and Dad don't care why am studying" if it's for my future my parents dint even matter or encourage me to pull my efforts up. I need their comments I need advice from my guardian so also parents they school child try to listen to their children about their life and studies also we see in outside countries girls school lead by having high scoring results. But why not Tanzania?

Conclusions:

We have been in recently school for observation about this Educational level in Tanzania. We have met some girls and asked some questions, about education level especially in government schools. They say studying in government school is hard but education is some how improved in some of them first they say Luck of Transportation. The government provided them with buses, but not all buses go to the places they live so they get at school late and they are still punished by their teachers some of them live in far places from the schools so they asked the government to increase number of schools. Also about payment of government teachers they also have hand work so the government should fulfill its promises. Students of the government schools are now suffering due to the teacher's refusing to teach them, be came the government doesn't want
